March 22 2aw6t†

From the Albany Daily Advertiser

We are not able to discern what views the late president of the United States has heretofore entertained on the subject of canals, roads and bridges. It has been brought before the nation so often, and recommended to the public attention i so earnest a manner, that we believe doubts have not been generally entertained of its constitutionality. It seems, however, that when these recommendations were in a fair way to be carried into effect, by a bill which had passed both houses, during the late session, the whole plan was arrested by the presidential veto, on the ground that the constitution contained no provision authorising congress to legislate on the subject. Without attempting to discuss the correctness or incorrectness of this decision, we cannot but regret, since it must be made, that the first step towards it had not been to suggest the expediency of amending the constitution for the purpose. It would have saved a good deal of time, as well as disappointment in the public expectation, particularly in this state, where the attention of so large a proportion of the community is turned towards the great object of a canal from lake Erie to the Hudson.

We hardly know what to look at upon this subject of constitutional powers. It would seem as if there need never be any doubt about their nature or extent. And yet we find different principles prevailing at different times; and different decisions have been made even on the same subject. This was strikingly the fact with regard to the National Bank.—Whatever views we may ourselves entertain relative to the powers of congress, relative to that institution, we cannot see why the reasoning adopted by the late president in refusing his approbation to the bill concerning canals, &c does not go the whole length of declaring the bank to be unconstitutional.—"I am aware," says he, "of the great importance of roads and canals, and the improved navigation of water-courses, and that a power in the national legislature to provide for them, might be exercised with signal advantage to the general prosperity But, seeing that such a power is not expressly given by the constitution, and believing that it cannot be deduced from any part of it, without an admissible latitude of construction, and a reliance on insufficient precedents; believing, also, that the permanent success of the constitution depends on a definite partition of powers between the general and state governments, and that no adequate land marks would be left by the constructive extension of the powers of Congress, as proposed in the bill, I have no option but to withhold my signature from it." There is no express power in the constitution to establish a bank.

Without undertaking to give an opinion on the soundness of this reasoning, as applicable to the consideration, we do not hesitate, on the general principles, to give it our unqualified approbation, and we hope most sincerely it may be brought into practical use, not only in questions of small importance as it respects the sovereignty of the states, such as the present, and one that occurred some years since, relative to the incorporation of a Baptist Congregation in the District of Columbia, but in those of the highest moment to our freedom and independence. Let this principle of construction be fully adopted, and we shall have no future attempts to establish a conscription, or to place the unlimited controul of the militia of the states, in the hands of the national executive. Let this principle of construction be fully and faithfully pursued, and there will hereafter be no necessary clashing between the United States government, and the individual states. Each moving in their own circuits, they will prove a mutual support, and will impart to each other energy as well as harmony.

From our late London papers.

LAW INTELLIGENCE.

Court of common pleas, Dec. 18.

Policy of Insurance.—Grey v. Sydebotham.

Mr. Serjeant Mauban stated the case. It was an action for the recovery of the amount of the defendant's subscription to a policy of insurance upon the ship Savannah, bound from Liverpool to N. Orleans This vessel sailed for her destination in April last, and about six weeks after was lost on a reef of rocks in the Bahama Straits, north of the Island of Cuba. The learned Serjeant could not anticipate what defence would be set up against this action. It was said, he understood that the captain (who was also the owner) had unskilfully navigated the ship, and had taken the wrong course; for that instead of sailing north of the Island, he should have gone south; but against this, it would appear for the plaintiff, that in the state of the winds at the time, he could have taken no other course than that which he had done; and also that he had used every proper precaution, and resorted to every means in his power to save the ship.

The mate proved, the circumstances connected with the loss of the ship—she bilged on a bed of rocks, and after trying all means to lighten her, by throwing overboard a part of the cargo, the captain and crew were taken from the wreck by a French vessel and carried to the Havannah.

A Swede, who had commanded an American packet, and who had often sailed in the direction where the ship was lost, described the north passage to be safe as the south; the latter could not be had when the wind was in certain points, particularly in the one that blew when the Savannah was lost.

In his cross-examination by Mr. Richardson, he said that the passage was wider, but he could hardly say safer. At all times, at sea, a good watch should be kept; at times, sunken rocks couldbe better seen aft, on deck, than from aloft. Mr. Richardson having intimated some doubt of this fact, the witness bluntly interrupted him, and exclaimed, "then, sir, how far off do you presume to say hidden rocks can be seen from be mast head?"

This request for the resolution of a neutical question from the learned Counsel, produced much laughter from the Court; and the Solicitor-General was proceeding to arraign the witness for what he termed his impudence, when

The Court interfered, and said it was evidently a bluntness of manner and not any intention of offending, that governed the witness.

Another American captain described the passage where the ship was lost a safe one: it was usually traversed by two-thirds of the American vessels.

After some consultation between Counsel, a verdict was given for the Plaintiff, with costs.

HORRIBLE SUPERSTITION & BIGOTRY IN FRANCE.

The pretensions of the clergy have just given rise to a scene at Chatellerault, not unlike that which occurred in Paris in 1814, at the funeral of a celebrated Actress. The principal physician of the former town having died without receiving the sacrament, the Priest refused admitting the corps into their church, and performing the accustomed funeral rites. A complaint on the subject was immediately prefered to the Mayor, who summoned the Priest to discharge their duty, but the latter protested against this summons, upon the grounds of their ministry not haven been called on when the deceased was in extremis, and referred the case to their grand Vicar, who approved their resolution. The inhabitants of the town, who took a great interest in the affair, waited with anxiety the event of these deliberations; and on being informed of the determination of the Chapter, they proceeded to the Church, forced open the doors, and caused the funeral procession to enter, compelling, at the same time, the few Priests they could bring together to perform the usual service. The Sub-Prefect on this occasion took the part of the Priesthood against the Mayor, and called on the Departmental Legion to disperse the procession, consisting of the most respectable inhabitants of the place, together with the mass of the people, who kept the Priests closely within their ranks, while the Mayor, on the other hand, supported by the national Guard, kept the Legion at bay, and caused the whole ceremony to be gone through without interruption.—This circumstance so inflamed the people of Chatellerault against the Clergy, that a few itinerant Missionaries of the Duchesse, happening to arrive their about that time, they met with so inhospitable a reception as to be obliged to retreat precipitately to another quarter. The conduct of the Priests of Chatellerault on this occasion may be considered as a first effect of the projet de loi under the consideration of the Chambers, for allowing the Clergy to receive gifts and bequests without the interference of the government, and thereby restoring the proprietor right to that body. The clergy will certainly become in future very importunate to the dying; they will deny their ministry to the departed, when the latter may have declined it, or not sufficiently required it, in their dying moments.

London, Jan. 21.

On Thursday Mr. Baring had a communication with the Earl of Liverpool, the chancellor of the exchequer, and Lord Castlereagh.

The letters by the Holland mail of yesterday confirm our previous advices respecting the premeditated plan of the Dutch government to throw open the tea trade of Holland. The Minister of the Colonial Department had required of the Chamber of Commerce their opinion as to the advantage likely to result from continuing the tea trade upon its present footing: the result of their deliberations was not known; but the policy of a free trade appearing so manifest, it was the opinion of the best informed that it would be resorted to.

Yesterday a Cabinet Council was unexpectedly held at the Foreign Office. The ministry assembled at half past two o'clock. There were present—

The Lord chancellor, the earl of Harrowby, the earl of Westmoreland, the earl of Liverpool, the chancellor of the exchequer, viscount Melville, viscount Sidmouth, viscount Castlereagh, earl Bathurst, Mr. Canning, Mr. B. Bathurst, &c They continued in deliberation full three hours, the cabinet not breaking up till about half past five.

EARTHQUAKES.

From the Barbadoes Mercury and Bridgetown Gazette.

Tuesday, December 24, 1816.

"Within the last three or four months the inhabitants of this island, but more particularly those in town, had been alarmed by three shocks of earthquake which, compared with that we have now to notice, were indeed trifling, and happily for us, unaccompanied by any ill consequences; but on Sunday last [Dec 22] at a little after twelve o'clock at night, we experienced another of those convulsions of the earth, which from its violence and the length of time that the undulation continued, some supposing it to have lasted about a minute, threatened us with nothing less than total annihilation. It pleased Providence however, to spare our lives; but many dwellings more particularly those situated in Broad street, have been so much injured as in all probability to occasion some parts of them to be pulled down, in order to repair those chasms which have been made in the walls.

It has not come to our knowledge, that any damage has been sustained in the country districts with the exception of a small wooden house, said to be thrown down beyond Ostlin's, although according to the information of several persons from various parishes, this dreadful visitation was generally felt, and its violence and time of duration appear to have been the same throughout the island. We have understood that those on board the vessels at this anchorage were equally sensible of the shock; and we are informed by one who was in a brig, which rolled in such a manner that her gunnel was nearly upon a line with a large boat which was lying along side."

ALEXANDRIA.

TUESDAY, MARCH 25.

ALEXANDRIA CANAL.

This day the Commisssioners, autho rized by the General Assembly of Vir ginia, will meet at the Exchange Coffee House, and open the Books for the purpose of receiving subscriptions for the stock of the Company.

Our readers have seen, by extracts from English papers, and verbal advices from Europe, that the difference between the United States and the Russian government is said to have been satisfactorily adjusted. It has given us pleasure to learn, that this report is not without foundation, and that information has been received by government, indirectly from Mr. Harris, our Charge'd'Affairs in Russia, that, immediately on being made acquainted with the true state of the case, by means of the dispatches of which Mr. Coles was the bearer, the Emperor expressed his conviction that not the government of the United States, but the Russian officers in this country, had been to blame in the transaction, which had been incorrectly represented to him.

The conduct of the emperor, in yielding his first impressions at once to just explanations from our government, is an evidence of the continuance of the disposition which that sovereign has always shewn, to maintain amicable relations with the U. States. The frankness and promptitude of the executive in making these explanations directly to the government of Russia, has secured the honorable termination of a controversy which, however absurd in it origin, might by the intrigues of those disposed to foment it, have become important in its consequences.

It is stated in the New York papers that the Russian Minister has been recalled by the emperor, with marks of his displeasure. We do not believe that any information to that effect has been received in this country from any official source.

"An act in addition to the Act to regulate the laying out and making a road from Cumberland, in the state of Maryland, to the state of Ohio

"Be it enacted, &c. That in addition to the unexpended balance of the sum hereafter appropriated for laying out and making a road from Cumberland in the state of Maryland, to the state of Ohio, the sum of one hundred thousand dollars be, and the same is hereby appropriated, to be paid out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, and to be expended, under the direction of the president of the U. States, in making said road between Cumberland in the state of Maryland, and Brownsville in the state of Pennsylvania, commencing at Cumberland:—which sum of one hundred thousand dollars shall be repaid out of the fund reserved for laying out and making roads to the state of Ohio, by virtue of the 7th section of an act passed on the 30th of April, 1802, &c.

LANGDON CHEVES,
Speaker of the house of Representatives.
JAMES MADISON

The reader is requested to compare this act with the objections of President Madison to the bill lately passed, on the subject of internal improvement. This is only one of many acts of a similar nature, to be found in our statute books, passed by congress at various sessions. For examples, see acts of the 30th of April 1802 12th December 1811: and 8th January 1812. The first of these was approved by Mr. Jefferson; the two latter by Mr. Madison. Now our argument is within a small compass; and shall be unanswerable. These acts of congress are or are not constitutional. If constitutional, Mr. Madison rejected the Bonus bill without reason. If unconstitutional, Mr. Jefferson and Mr. Madison both violated the constitution in approving them. It is not our business to decide which is the most pleasant horn of the dilemma. All we wish is that the interest of the country had not been sacrificed to a whim; for it would seem indeed that the constitution, with Mr. Madison, means any thing or nothing; and is to be construed according to his whims. The measure of injury he has done by his last whim we will not undertake at present to ascertain; but it is stupendous.—[True American.]

A singular calculation has been made on the value of the Rhenish wine, which has been for nearly 2 centuries in a cellar at Bremon called the Rose. The five hogsheads of wine were purchased in 1624 for 1230 francs, $240—in calculating the interest of the sum and interest on the interest, each hogshead would be now worth 5,752,686,623 crowns! A bottle of this precious wine, would cost 21,790,480 francs! A wine glass 2, 723,898 francs! and one drop, (reckoning 1000 drops to the glass) 10,880 francs, or $2,176

A newspaper has been lately established at the town of Moscow, in the state of New-York called the Genessee Farmer. It is stated in that paper that the publication of it commences in less than 30 months from the time when "the first blow was struck in laying out the village of Moscow, and when the place was a thicket of wood, without a human habitation." "There are now besides other flourishing establishments, three schools, with nearly eighty scholars."

We have received a file of Curracoa papers to the 22d February, by the brig Active, arrived yesterday forenoon. In one of which we find a proclamation of General Bolivar, bearing date the 6th of January, declaring that all vessels, without exception of nation, that shall, after forty days from the date of the proclamation, be taken within three miles of the ports of La Guayra and Puerto Cabello, shall be declared good prize, without admitting any excuse or pretext whatever.

From the India Gazette, Extra.

Calcutta, Oct. 14, 1816.

The following is an extract of a letter which has just reached us from an intelligent correspondent at Dushire. It is dated the 25th August.

"Report says, that one hundred thousand Russians are arrived at Tiflix, that they are commanded by Constantine Powlitwich, that they are resolved to make war with Persia, that this commander in chief is brother to Alexander the king, and is empowered to act as he pleases. Wallachia and Moldavia the Russians have taken from the Turks, and we may expect to hear that they will shortly make further advances Eastward; their ambition is well known, and now that they are at peace with their neighbors, they must find out employ for their immense armies.

"The Sultan of Muscat has assembled all the Arab tribes, and is in person gone to take Balireign, he has been severely beaten by some Whuabee horse; but is resolved to renew the attack, although he and all his party were obliged to fly to their boats, &c.

JAMES KENNEDY & SON,

BOOKSELLERS, KING STREET,

Have just received from LEE'S PATENT MEDICINE Store, No. 46 Maiden Lane, N. York.

A FRESH SUPPLY

Of the following genuine Medicines.

For the prevention and cure of Bilious and Malignant Fevers, is recommended

Hahn's Anti-Bilious Pills.

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor s feelings, in several parts of the West Indies, and the Southern & Middle States, particularly in N. York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Petersburg, Richmond. Norfolk, Edenton, Wilmington, Charleston, and Savannah. The testimony of a number of persons at each of the above places can be adduced, who have reason to believe, that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives. when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy, founded on mere assertion.

It s not, indeed, presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience, for believing that a dose of these Pills, taken once in every two weeks, during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventative ; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases, their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate, and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation, and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to cary off superfluous bile & prevent its morbid secretions—to restore & amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which is so often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance—they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficatious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

HAMILTON'S WORM DESTROYING LOZENGES.

Which have cured an immense number of persons of both sexes, of every age, and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from worms, and from obstructions orfoulness in their stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of, as operating with violence ; on the contrary, a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and perfectly in It contains nothing but what isconstitution. nocent, and is also mild in its operation cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old, should no worms exist in the body ; but will, without pain or griping, cleanse the stomach and bowels, of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms, and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious n carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion

DESCRIPTION OF WORMS.

And the symptoms by which they are known:

Worms which infest the human body, are chiefly of four kinds, viz.—The Teres, or large round worm ; the Ascarides, or small maw-worm ; the Cucurbitina, or short, flat, white worm ; and lastly, the Tænia, or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long, and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning ; bad and corrupted gums ; itching in the nose, and about the seat ; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech ; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep ; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food, and sometimes voracious ; purging, with slimy & fœtid stools ; vomiting ; large and hard belly ; pains and sickness at the stomach ; slow fever, with small and irregular pulse ; a dry cough ; excessive thirst ; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face boated and flushed.
